Special Diwali at SVPI Airport

Décor

Under larger umbrella of Indian Celebration starter, this year SVPI airport is decked up and got ready to offer many surprises for the passenger travelling during month of October. The festive season is all about expressing joy, cultivating relationships, celebrating the good in life and ushering lots of colour and vibrancy into our lives. And what better way to celebrate than through a mesmerising display of fireworks and illumination which reflects how beautiful life can be.

The terminal has an attraction of larger-than-life Diwali décor for passengers to experience and create memories by taking selfies. The treatment of the main structure is in stained glass and consists of an array of bright reflective colours which will shine through any environment. The inner chandelier is resplendent, huge, and beautifully illuminated and complements the outside structure.

Engagement activity

Passengers can indulge into some activities done inside the terminal building that include Diya making, candle making and many surprises. The passengers can express their art with help from artists at the engagement area. The passengers can take along their piece home to make Diwali celebration special.

Shopping guilt free

Passenger experience and convenience is of prime importance at SVPI airport, this time to add to the experience passengers will have special Diwali shopping discounts and surprise gifts. This Diwali, while travelling through airport passengers will have many reasons to shop and get surprised gifts. There are shopping engagement activities that will give assured discount voucher to the passengers. Strolling in the terminal building for departing passengers gets beneficial like never before this Diwali.

Live music performances also planned during this month for passengers to indulge in while waiting to board their flight.
